President's Letter

Community - Don't leave home without it.

I was serving down at the Juvenile Detention Center on Dan Street in Akron last weekend. A fellow Pescadore spoke about how lonely she felt, isolated from friendships. Her face looked like she would break into tears but she was holding it in. My heart went out to her and I asked her about Secuela's. She had never been.

At the end of an unrelated conversation with Diane Harsch a few days later, I asked her, "If there is one thing you could say to the Community what would that be?" She thought about it for a minute and said, "I'd like to tell the Community that you never have to feel lonely..." She went on to describe the difference between being alone and feeling lonely. For example, she had just dropped Dave off at the airport to travel to Arlington to be present at the burial of his father at Arlington Memorial Cemetary. Dave would travel alone of necessity. But fortified by the prayers of the Community, he would not be lonely.

As I hung up the phone, it occurred to me that, like our local church how bountiful God's blessing is on Tres Dias Cleveland, if only we as individuals will reach out and get involved. Secuelas are free! Reunion Groups are free! Openings and Closings are free and open to all! And leaving any one of those events ... my heart is always filled. And I know any one of those people is just a phone call away - all I have to say is "...Tres Dias..." to get a heavenly welcome. Community!

I hope dear friends that you are reaching out, plugged in, and most importantly right now, sharing the gift of Tres Dias with your 'neighbor'. Why not pick up the phone right now and call someone from your Weekend, your table, or someone you met recently at a Secuela just to say "Hello!" and "What can I be praying about for you?" And then as soon as that conversation is over, call someone else and say, "How would you like to have a close encounter with God, with Jesus Christ, and with the Holy Spirit?" After a pause and some remarks of disbelief, say, "It happened for me. I can help make that happen for you."

some are in the habit of doing, but let us
encourage one another—and all the more as you see the Day approaching.*

Hebrews 10:25

P.S. As I write this, a business meeting was cancelled by a snowstorm in the Midwest today. And so I was able to have a close encounter of another kind. It was an event I will NEVER forget. The pictures tell the story – Faith, Hope, Love, and JOYYYY!!! Thank you Lord for a snowstorm! And yet another wonderful Community!

PRAYER REQUESTS & UPDATES

Please pray for our Leadership and the following needs:

Update on Wally Scofield [M#6]: Hi Guys, I owe you all an update on my treatment. I finished my treatments of chemotherapy and radiation the first week in January and have been home trying to heal my throat. I am dealing with the pain very well and have some good news. A week ago I had a cat scan and my radiation oncologist reported back to me that the report was very good and she was very pleased and that I should have great comfort with this report. I have another test in a few weeks that will be more definitive and then we shall know. I want to thank the Cleveland Tres Dias community for their prayers, emails and cards. It helped carry me through my rigorous protocols. I am starting to feel stronger and have begun to work again. I am preaching on Sundays and going to my office a couple of times a week. I'm looking forward to seeing everyone soon.

Update on Ginny Gibbons [W#10]: Dear Prayer Warriors, the last 10 days have been a nightmare, but God is Good, All THE TIME!!!! Ginny is very depressed, so much so that she went into a state of amnesia. She has had a CT and two MRA's, a spinal tap and numerous blood work and liver tests. We have seen a team of neurologist and a second opinion today. The cancer has not spread anywhere else in her body (PRAISE THE LORD). She was to start her third round of chemo today but her oncologist said she has never seen this type of reaction before, so she is delaying the chemo for a couple of weeks primarily because Ginny's tumors are responding to the chemo. Her CA125 was down to 200 and before it was up over 1000. Again, (PRAISE THE LORD). She is having a Psych Eval and has an appointment with a Psychologist soon. She has gone through so much that I think she just has shut down. I know that God only gives you what you can handle, but Ginny said to tell God that she really isn't that strong. Thank you for your prayers and comfort and support. God Bless, Angie

Update on Terry Narus [M#14]: The good Lord heard and hears the prayers of His children! Thank you all so much! Terry's ultra sound was actually better then it was 2 yrs ago! Praise the Lord oh my soul AND ALL THAT IS WITHIN ME, BLESS HIS HOLY NAME! Thanks and God bless, Pamela Narus #14

Update from Jim Crytzer [M#71]:

Dear Community,

Thank you seems so inadequate. I am so blessed to have this wonderful community of Christian brothers and sisters praying for me and supporting Judi and me with all of your cards, emails and visits. I know that your prayers saw me through the emergency operation and during my recovery thus far. I know that I've got a long way to go, but I also know that our God is in control and He hears our prayers. I treasure your prayers for me and Judi, my wonderful wife and caregiver.

Your grateful brother,

Jim
